☆Dotan-Kiri: Slash down by stacking 7 rolls of WARA (drop the sword vertically)

☆Yokonarabe-Kiri (Side-by-side) : Arrange 7 rolls of WARA horizontally

☆The total number of slashes in the above two events will determine the overall winner of the Ranking method of Ueki Cup.

The scoring method is 7 points if all shots are slashed, and 6.3 points if 5 are slashed and the 6th one stops at about 30%.

The WARA that stops is measured in units of 10% to determine the ranking, and if there is a tie, the Habaki-moto of the sword used is measured and the narrower one wins. If Habaki-moto is the same, the older person will be the winner.

Awards will be given to the 1st through 5th place competitors in the Dotan-Kiri, Yokonarabe-Kiri and Ueki-Cup (total scores for these two categories).
